Archbishop of New York

His Eminence, Timothy Cardinal Dolan was named Archbishop of New York by Pope Benedict XVI in February 2009. Cardinal Dolan had served as Archbishop of Milwaukee since he was appointed by His Holiness, Pope John Paul II in 2002. In 1964, Cardinal Dolan began his high school seminary education at St. Louis Preparatory Seminary South in Shrewsbury, Mo. His seminary foundation continued at Cardinal Glennon College, where he earned a bachelor of arts degree in philosophy. He then completed his priestly formation at the Pontifical North American College in Rome, earning a License in Sacred Theology at the Pontifical University of St. Thomas. Cardinal Dolan was ordained to the priesthood in 1976. He then served as associate pastor at Immacolata Parish in Richmond Heights, Mo., until 1979, when he began studies for a doctorate in American Church History at the Catholic University of America. Before completing the doctorate, he spent a year researching the late Archbishop Edwin O'Hara, a founder of the Catholic Biblical Association and whose life and ministry was the subject of his doctoral dissertation.

On his return to St. Louis, Cardinal Dolan served in parish ministry from 1983-87, during which time he was also liaison for the late Archbishop John L. May in the restructuring of the college and theology programs of the archdiocesan seminary system. In 1987, Cardinal Dolan was appointed to a five-year term as secretary to the Apostolic Nunciature in Washington, D.C. When he returned to St. Louis in 1992, he was appointed vice rector of Kenrick-Glennon Seminary, serving also as director of Spiritual Formation and professor of Church History. He was also an adjunct professor of theology at Saint Louis University.

Cardinal Dolan was appointed rector of the Pontifical North American College in Rome, where he served from 1994 until 2001. There, he was also a visiting professor of Church History at the Pontifical Gregorian University and a faculty member in the Department of Ecumenical Theology at the Pontifical University of St. Thomas Aquinas. The work of the Cardinal in the area of seminary education has influenced the life and ministry of a great number of priests of the new millennium.

In 2001—the 25th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood—the then-Fr. Dolan was named the Auxiliary Bishop of St. Louis by Pope John Paul II. The new Bishop Dolan chose for his Episcopal motto the profession of faith of St. Peter: Ad Quem Ibimus, "Lord To Whom Shall We Go?" (Jn 6:68). Cardinal Dolan served as chairman of Catholic Relief Services from January 2009 – November 2010. He is currently a member of the Board of Trustees of The Catholic University of America, the Pontifical Council for Promoting New Evangelization and the Pontifical Council for Social Communications.

In 2012, His Holiness Pope Benedict XVI announced that Cardinal Dolan was to be appointed to the College of Cardinals. On November 30, 2013, His Holiness, Pope Francis named Cardinal Dolan a member of the Congregation for Catholic Education.

For his achievements in supporting and advancing education worldwide; for his inspiration of millions of Catholics and non-Catholics alike as a primary face of the Church in North America; and for serving as an advocate for the tradition of American Catholic higher education, Iona College hereby confers on HIS EMINENCE, TIMOTHY CARDINAL DOLAN the degree of Doctor of Education, honoris causa.

HONORARY DEGREE

JOSEPH HANKIN, Ed.D.

President of Westchester Community College

The nation's longest serving community college president, Dr. Joseph Hankin, has led Westchester Community College, a State University of New York institution, since 1971 and will retire after 42 years of leadership and service. His work ethic and visionary leadership have resulted in one of the nation's finest community colleges and the largest educational institution in the county of Westchester. His influence goes beyond programmatic changes and brick-and-mortar improvements. Through his positive leadership, example and influence over the people of WCC, he has inspired others to do their best on behalf of the college. During Dr. Hankin's tenure, the college's faculty and professional staff have received more SUNY Chancellor's Awards for Excellence than any similarly sized institution.

Dr. Hankin's various efforts to educate immigrants and new citizens have resulted in the expansion of the English as a Second Language Program. More than 4,000 individuals now learn English language skills at the college (approximately 45,000 over the past 11 years). Under his leadership, the college expanded its resources for mature adults, and now offers classes through Mainstream, the Institute for Mature Adults, and Collegium, which provides high-level educational options for lifelong learners. With the addition of new buildings on the main campus and an expansion through the county—including five freestanding extension hub sites—students learn in more locations than ever before. An early proponent of online learning, Dr. Hankin's support of distance education has resulted in a rapid expansion in this area.

At the age of 26, Dr. Hankin became the nation's youngest college president when he assumed leadership of Harford Community College in Maryland. Dr. Hankin earned his BA from City College of New York, and his MA and Ed.D. from Columbia University, and has been awarded four honorary degrees. He has received over 100 honors and awards, including being named one of the Top Fifty Community College Leaders in the Nation and one of the Most Effective College Presidents in the United States.

For his service to individuals of all ages in Westchester County and beyond; for his achievements as a leader and visionary in American higher education; and for his contributions to the vitality of our region through providing opportunities for life-long learning, Iona College hereby confers on JOSEPH HANKIN the degree of Doctor of Public Service, honoris causa.

TERENCE WINCH '67

Poet/Musician/Writer

Bronx native Terence Winch was born to Irish immigrants in 1945. A 1967 graduate of Iona College, he moved to Washington, D.C., in the 1970s, where he became one of the "Mass Transit" poets and was closely associated with the New York writers connected with the Poetry Project at St. Mark's Church in lower Manhattan. In 2013, Salmon Poetry, based in County Clare, Ireland, published Lit from Below, a collection of 10-line poems, and his latest book, This Way Out, is set for publication in 2014.

His 2011 collection, Falling Out of Bed in a Room with No Floor, includes recent work along with some of Winch's best-known poems from earlier chapbooks, while Boy Drinkers is a series of mostly narrative poems that center around religion and Winch's New York brand of Irish-Catholicism. That Special Place: New World Irish Stories is a collection of non-fiction stories that come out of his experiences playing traditional Irish music with Celtic Thunder, a band he started with his brother Jesse in 1977. Many of the songs he wrote for Celtic Thunder recount the story of New York's Irish community. The group's album The Light of Other Days won the prestigious INDIE award for Best Celtic Album in 1988, and in 1992 Irish America magazine named Winch one of "The Top 100 Irish Americans."

Winch's work appears in more than 30 anthologies, among them The Oxford Book of American Poetry and four Best American Poetry collections. His work has appeared in The Paris Review, New American Writing, and The New Republic, among many other journals. Winch's poems have also been highlighted several times on Garrison Keillor's "The Writer's Almanac" radio program. Featured in a 1986 profile by Geoff Himes on National Public Radio, Winch was also the subject of a two-part interview with George Liston Seay on Public Radio International's Dialogue program in 1998. He has interviewed several leading Irish writers for the cable TV series The Writing Life, and was himself the subject of an interview with Roland Flint for the series in 1998. Winch is a regular contributor to the Best American Poetry blog, and has written for The Washington Post, The Washingtonian, The Village Voice, The Wilson Quarterly, The Dictionary of Irish Literature, The Oxford Companion to American Poetry, and other books and publications. In addition to an American Book Award and the Columbia Book Award, Terence Winch has received a National Endowment for the Arts Fellowship in poetry and is the winner of a Gertrude Stein Award for Innovative Writing.

Winch worked for the Smithsonian Institution for 24 years, most of that time as Head of Publications at the National Museum of the American Indian. He also worked as senior editor and acting Chief of Publications at the Smithsonian American Art Museum. During his time at the Smithsonian, he produced more than 60 books and catalogues and five sound recordings of music and spoken arts.

For his artistic and scholarly achievements; for his advancement of Irish and Irish American poetry, music and culture; and for serving as an example of how one Iona graduate has moved the world through literature and the celebration of multiple cultures, Iona College hereby confers on TERENCE WINCH the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Originally, academic costumes were worn by members of religious orders who established most of the early universities. Academic garb consisted of the clerical robe and a hood (which actually served as that). While these costumes were similar, different orders frequently modified their gowns and hoods. Some officials also wore insignia or other adornments to identify their positions.

When universities achieved identity as educational institutions, the design and symbolism of academic regalia began to change. Universities in Europe (and in overseas areas culturally tied to Europe) developed colorful gowns and caps, and the hood became a designator of degrees.

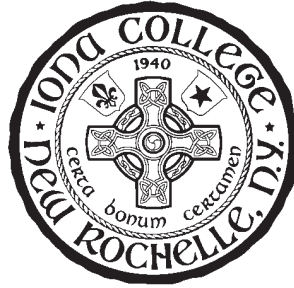

Institutions in the United States were, until recently, rather conservative in the matter of academic garb. While tendencies in the other direction began to manifest themselves in 1895, they were checked temporarily when a conference of institutions agreed that the basic academic garb should be a black robe and cap, and a hood indicating the wearer's degree and the institution from which it was received.

In recent times, an increasing number of institutions have adopted gowns and caps which incorporate official colors. The pace of this change was accelerated when Harvard University introduced its crimson doctoral gown. Other institutions felt challenged to match this resplendence. While embellishments were first limited to the doctor's attire, the use of colored gowns and caps for bachelor's and master's degree recipients is a current trend.

Participants in academic ceremonies normally wear the academic regalia to which they are entitled by virtue of the degrees they hold. Members of boards of trustees may wear doctoral gowns, but the hoods must signify the degrees they actually hold.

The field of study of an earned degree is identified by a standard code of colors used as the edging of hoods, as part of the decoration of gowns, and for tassels on caps. The standard color code follows:

Agriculture	Maize
Arts, Letters, Humanities	White
Commerce, Accountancy, Business	Drab
Dentistry	Lilac
Economics	Copper
Education	Light Blue
Engineering	Orange
Fine Arts	Brown
Forestry	Russet
Journalism	Crimson
Law	Purple
Library Science	Lemon
Medicine	Green
Music	Pink
Nursing	Apricot
Oratory	Silver Gray
Pharmacy	Olive Green
Philosophy	Dark Blue
Physical Education	Sage Green
Public Administration	Peacock Blue
Public Health	Salmon Pink
Science	Golden Yellow
Social Work	Citron
Theology	Scarlet
Veterinary Science	Gray

Thy name where'er we be.

Throughout the world we praise thee,
Proud to bear thy name.

Guide our College year by year.
Founder of the first Iona,
Sing we now in accents clear:
Iona, Alma Mater,
On high thy glories soar;
Ionians go forth again
To praise thee evermore.
