WRITING WORKSHOP

This class offers you the opportunity to turn your memories into memoirs and experiment with a variety of other writing genres in a nurturing atmosphere.

Instructor: Irene Schindler

Time: 11:00 a.m. – 12:15 p.m.

PONDERABLES

Things to think about: science, the environment, and your own past! Those wishing to be part of the panels on July 13th and 27th are invited to contact:

Linda Whetzel (718) 324-1120,
LRoemerw@aol.com

July 6 Science Ponderables
Presenter: Joyce Kent

July 13 Memorable Firsts – Remember your first love? Your first car? Your first...? Share that memory with the rest of us!

July 20 It's Not Easy Being Green
Presenter: Brad Hochberg

July 27 School Days – Share your memories of school from either side of the desk, as a student or as a teacher.

Time: 1:00 p.m. – 2:15 p.m.

THE ART WORKSHOP

If you took the Art Workshop or the Drawing class in the spring and wish to continue working, this is the place to be. If you want just a few drawing lessons, try your hand here. Bring your favorite drawing materials with you!

Instructor: Jeanie Ritter

Time: 1:00 p.m. – 2:15 p.m.

Interested in auditing a class at Iona this fall?

Because of Iona's policy of allowing only current LIRIC members to audit courses, we MUST have your application for LIRIC membership by Friday, August 11th if you wish to audit a class in the fall.

HOWEVER, though we have asked Iona repeatedly for a date and place for audit registration, they have not yet responded. We will contact you via email with this information, along with the starting date for classes, as soon as Iona gives it to us.

GET READY!

LIRIC kicks off the beginning of its 25th year at our Open House on Sunday, September 10th on the Iona campus.

Look for the announcement in the fall catalog – and plan to bring a friend as we start our Silver Celebration!
